AUGUST 6, 1772. NATHAN LEGARE.

CHARLES-TOWN, AUGUST 8.

CAPTAIN Lasley, who arrived here last Tuesday from Bristol, has brought London Papers down to the 20th of June, which confirm the Appointment of the Duke of Grafton, to be Keeper of the Privy-Seal, and Ranger and Warden of Salcey-Park in Northamptonshire; of the Earl of Suffolk and Berkshire, to be one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, for the Northern Department; of the Hon. Robert Walpole, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary to the Court of Spain; of Lord Hyde, to be Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster; and of Lord North, to be Ranger and Warden of Bushy-Park, worth fifteen Hundred Pounds per Annum.—The particular advices contained in the paper of June 20th, are, That the king of Sweden made his public entry into Stockholm on May 30th; and, on June 3d, appeared in the Senate for the first time, where he repeated his assurances, of governing according to law, and of using his utmost endeavours to render his people happy. That letters from many parts of Germany gave most deplorable accounts of the scarcity of provisions, and distress of the inhabitants; the peasants of the duchy of Wirtemberg, and of several districts in the circles of Bavaria, Suabia, &c. already experienced all the horrors of famine. That bread was as dear again at Paris as in London, and all other kinds of provisions full as dear; and in the provinces, the people were obliged to eat a sort of black bread, very coarse, unsavoury, and unwholesome: That the French king, totally regardless of the encreasing discontents and disorders in his kingdom, had nominated the Duc d'Aiguillon secretary of state for foreign affairs: And, that the code so much talk'd of, had at last made its appearance, and was intitled, "an edict for the regulation of proceedings, made at Versailles in February 1771." That on June 20th, a council met at St. James's, on affairs of importance. That the Aldermen Samuel Plumbe and John Kirkman, Esqrs. were to be supported by a part of the Livery, in the approaching election of sheriffs, in opposition to the friends of the Aldermen Wilkes and Bull; and that it was expected, that the contest for sheriffs, at Guildhall, on the monday following, would be the warmest ever known. And, that it was pretty certain, the present Lord Mayor would be re-elected for the ensuing year.

Conclusion of Mr. WILKES's Answer to Parson HORNE's XIIth Letter,—dated Prince's-Court, June 20, 1771.

"—— Whether you proceed, Sir, to a thirteenth or a thirtieth "letter, is to me a matter of the most entire indifference. You "will no longer have me your correspondent. All the efforts of "your malice and rancour cannot give me a moment's disquiet- "ude. They will only torment your own breast. I am, Sir, Your humble servant,

"JOHN WILKES."

There have been lately built and launched here, a fine Brigantine by Mr. Cornelius Dewies, for Captain William Thomfon; and another Brigantine, by Mr. Wallis, for Capt. John Wright; both designed for the West-India Trade, and now near ready for the Sea. Three fine large Ships are also in such Forwardness on the Stocks, that they will be launched early this Fall; one of them, building by Messrs. Begbie & Manson, for Capt. William White, in the London Trade, reckoned a very complete Vessel; the second, building by Mr. James Black, for Captain James Bailey, also in the London Trade, full as complete; and the third, building by Mr. Robert Watts, for Captain William Carter, in the Bristol Trade, not less complete than the others. Besides these, a fine Brigantine is building by Mr. James Vance; and Orders are come from England, for building several other large Ships in this Province:—A Proof that the Goodness of Vessels built here, and the superior Quality of our Live-Oak Timber to any Wood in America for Ship-Building, is at length acknowledged.

His Excellency THOMAS BOONE, Esq; formerly Governor of this Province, and some few Years since appointed a Commissioner of His Majesty's Customs in Great-Britain, has been, some Time ago, married to Mrs. Sarah Peronneau, Widow of Mr. Samuel Peronneau, late of this Town, Merchant.

Last Thursday Mr. Benjamin Wigfall, of St. Thomas and St. Dennis Parish, was married to Miss Martha Dutarque, a most agreeable and accomplished young Lady, Daughter of the late John Dutarque, Esq; of the same Parish.

John Hughes, Esq; Collector of His Majesty's Customs for this Port, has appointed Mr. Peter Bounetheau to be his Deputy, in the Room of Mr. McDonogh, lately departed this Province.

Among the Gentlemen lately returned from England, we omitted to mention, Mr. Alexander Harvey and Captain John Muir.

Yesterday embarked and sailed for England, in order to go from thence to France, and procure Persons experienced in the Culture of Wine and Silk, Mesnil de St. Pierre, Esq.

This Day His Majesty's Sloop Viper, commanded by Captain Porter, sailed on a Cruize.

This Day also sailed, with the Mails for Great-Britain, the Swallow Packet-Boat, commanded by Capt. Robert Thomson.

The Quantity of Rice cleared from the Port, since this First of November last, now amounts to 122,165 Tierces. We have not yet received certain Accounts of what is gone from George-Town and Beaufort: But it is supposed the whole Amount of the Crop will turn out between 135 and 140,000.——The present Crop is by no Means likely to be so great; for besides, the great Loss sustained by the Freshes in May last, there has happened another within these ten Days, in the same Parts, which has totally destroyed the remaining Grain, with upwards of 100,000 lb. of Indico, and 200,000 lb. of Hemp. This last Fresh rose within three Feet of the Height of the former, and is but now beginning to fall.—Indian Corn has not yet been at above 20*s.* per Bushel here; but Sufferers by the Freshes are glad to get it at 32*s.* 6*d.*—The Price of Rice is still 3*l.* 15*s.* per Hundred.

The General Assembly of Virginia met the 11th of last Month, at Williamsburg, pursuant to the President's Proclamation; when His Honour opened the Session, with a Speech, particularly recommending to their Consideration to relieve the Distresses of the Sufferers by the late extraordinary Inundation in that Province.

From the No. Carolina Gazette, July 26.

NEWBERN, JULY 26.

"We are advised from Dobbs county, that since the return "of the military gentlemen of that county from the expedition, "very spirited measures have been pursued with a number of "gentry who have been discovered to have held regulating prin- "ciples, and were ready to have joined the Regulators, had they succeeded against the provincial forces. About ten of these people have been apprehended, tried by a court-martial, and severely flogged at the halberds; and, what is very amazing, a person of that county, of considerable property, has thought proper to decamp, rather than undergo the discipline of the halberd, which he must have submitted to, for being very deeply tinged with regulating notions.

"That the idle, the dissolute and abandoned, who have nothing to lose, should join in opposing government, excites no wonder, because, in the general confusion, they have a chance to mend their fortunes; but the man of real property who risks his life and fortune on so precarious a tenure, must be a fool or a madman, or actuated by some malignant principle of revenge or ambition, that degrades human nature, and places him below the brute creation, the ferocity of whose nature prompts them to devour their own species.

"Such principles as these, we imagine, must have entirely taken possession of the breast of the person who lately wrote a letter from this country, to Boston, and published in Edes & Gill's paper, charging the printers of this province with being so much under the influence of government, as not to publish a true account of the late battle with the Regulators, and his excellency governor Tryon, with being a murderer, a horse-stealer, an avaricious plunderer; words he certainly knew not the meaning of, or they must have immediately convicted him of a lie, as the contrary character of his excellency must stand engraved in indelible characters on the breast of every inhabitant of North-Carolina."

From the No. Carolina Gazette, Aug. 2.

NEWBERN, AUGUST 2.

"We have the best authority to inform the public, that upwards of 7000 of the Regulators have come in upon his excellency governor Tryon's proclamation, taken the oaths of allegiance, and peaceably submitted themselves to government; and with grateful hearts acknowledged the goodness and mercy of his excellency, by whose vigorous and spirited pursuit of the measures of government they have been retrieved from inevitable destruction to themselves and families, and rescued from the hands of a few designing men, who had nothing more in view than the total subversion of this government.

"When this is a fact so notoriously known, is it not inconceivable that men should still be found, who are hardy enough to abet the measures of a set of villains who were in actual rebellion against one of the mildest administrations in America, had torn down from their seats the judges of his Majesty's courts of law in this province, severely whipped the lawyers, clerks, and other crown officers, and were in actual march for this town, with avowed intentions of destroying an edifice that does so much honour to the province, and is an ornament to North-America. The hearts of such men must be callous to every principle of honour, justice, or humanity."

[The NORTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE, from which the foregoing paragraphs are taken, is printed at NEWBERN, where, though that place is not central to the province, and is without a good port, the sumptuous edifice above-mentioned has lately been erected, at an immense expence, to be raised by a Poll-Tax, and the seat of government fixed. These circumstances, and the destructive gripes of the law, are, by many, alledged to be the true, original, and sole source of the late discontents in that province, and of the subsequent unwarrantable and outrageous proceedings of the poor back inhabitants, which have crimsoned o'er the plain of Alamance with so much of their blood. Those who alledge this, positively deny, that there was fixed design or conspiracy in any, to depart from their allegiance to our excellent Sovereign, and totally subvert his government: They affirm, that such assertions are made, merely to render them odious and detestable; that their sole aim was, to obtain redress of real grievances; but they acknowledge, that despair led them into improper measures.——As we do not mean that unjust reflections should be cast any where; so, if any part of these observations should be founded on misrepresentation, it will afford us the greatest pleasure, to receive such information as incontestably bears the test of truth.——While our professed impartiality (and known disinterestedness) requires that we should not refuse a place to the foregoing observations, we must not omit to do due justice to His Excellency Governor Tryon's "exalted" character, by acknowledging, that (till since the bloody victory of Alamance) we never heard it impeached, either in his public or private capacity; but that, on the contrary, it really was an exalted one.]

The Paper entitled the MASSACHUSETTS SPY, of the 27th June last, containing certain Queries addressed to Governor Tryon [See this Gazette of the 28th past] having been received at Newbern on the 20th ult. it was the unanimous Opinion of a Company of Gentlemen assembled at a Tavern, that they were compelled, in Point of Justice to His Excellency, to themselves, and to the Public, to have a Meeting of the Inhabitants of that Town, to collect their Sentiments respecting the Contents of the said Paper. A Meeting was accordingly had on the Monday following, the Hon. Samuel Cornell in the Chair, when they came to seven Resolutions; among which the following was one, viz.

Resolved, That the Chairman be requested to direct the Sheriff of the county to give orders that the paper called the Massachusetts Spy, No. 27, be publickly burnt under the gallows by the common hangman, on Wednesday next, as an open testimony of the utter abhorrence and detestation in which that infamous production, and its still more infamous authors, are held by the people of this government."

And on the 31st, three figures, designed to represent the printer of, and two writers in, the Massachusetts Spy, were suspended in effigy, "and, after hanging a few minutes, cut down and cast into a fire prepared for that purpose, amidst the shouts and acclamations of a large concourse of reputable inhabitants [of Newbern] "who made the air resound with, Long live governor Tryon, prosperity to the city and province of New-York, &c."
